Thank you for applying to adopt a barn cat! By taking home one of these cats you are truly helping save a life and providing an opportunity for the cats to have a fulfilling happy life.

We believe they are valuable pets and though "working" for you, they will depend on you for basic care and overall health. Their welfare is our foremost consideration and we work hard to find qualified barn homes for Barn Buddy cats. Because most cats are social animals and like the company of other cats, we require that you take two cats or already have existing cats to be companions. We can help with the integration process.
